Cover image: The cover image shows Jo Bodeon, a back-roper in the mule room at Chace Cotton Mill. Burlington, Vermont. This and other similar images in this book were taken by Lewis W. Hine, in the period between 1908-1912. These images as well as social campaigns by many including Hine, helped to formulate America's anti-child labour laws.

Official Cape Government Railways Postcards

At the beginning of the twentieth century, pictorial postcards became very popular. The Cape Government Railways issued a series of pictorial postcards that featured captioned views of southern Africa scenery and railway transport, such as coaches and engines. Some of them also carried slogans encouraging the public to make use of rail service.
